REVOLUTIONARY ART GENIUS

Maverick Modigliani

Artist Maudit, scandalous genius and indisputable master of 20th Century Art:

a portrayal that goes beyond the legendary to celebrate the 100th Anniversary since his death. Narrated here from the original point of view of his young wife, Jeanne Hébuterne who committed suicide two days after his death. Jeanne together with the Russian aspiring poetess Anna Achmatova, and the English journalist Beatrice Hastings were the women he painted portraits of, and whose faces, almost caryatid-like, became the very icons of his art. The action of the film unwinds through museum halls, enriched by the works of the Albertina in Vienna and the splendid exhibition dedicated to the artist at Livorno's City Museum, as well as the National Gallery of Art in Washington and the great museums and art collections in Paris.

Interviews with:

Marc Restellini, Paolo Virzi, Simone Lenzi, Gérard Netter, Antonio Marras, Laura Dinelli, as well as Emilia Philippot, Jacqueline Munck and Klaus Albrecht Schröder.

An Impressionist painting of a woman, likely by Berthe Morisot, showing her from the chest up. She has her right arm raised, and the background is a mix of blue and white brushstrokes. The style is characterized by visible, energetic brushwork and a focus on light and color.

NEW

Secret Impressionists

50 unseen masterpieces unveiled for the first time: Manet, Caillebotte, Renoir, Monet, Cézanne, Signac, Sisley and Berthe Morisot.

A cinematic journey to discover the art revolution caused by the Impressionist movement through fifty paintings that have been on display in Rome at Palazzo Bonaparte, in an exhibition of the same title. How did the Impressionists view the world? What was the reception given to their works? How did they go from being rejected by critics and the public to becoming, in just a few short years, some of the best loved works of art in the whole world? The two curators of the exhibition, Claire Durand-Ruel (Paul Durand-Ruel, the most important Impressionists' art dealer was her great-great-grandfather) and Marianne Mathieu, will accompany audiences along a complex and intriguing path.

ICONS TO CELEBRATE

Freud 2.0

Birth and Destiny of the Theories that Have changed the World

When, 80 years ago, Sigmund Freud died in London, many mourned the loss of one of the great thinkers of the 20th century. He who had forever changed the way we look at the human mind, personality, and family relationships. But what is left of the ideas of psychoanalysis today? The scientist Frank Cioffi, in a famous BBC broadcast, wondered: was Freud a liar? To understand what is still relevant in Freud's thought, we have chosen some of the best-known concepts of psychoanalysis, to see if they could be applied to young people of today from cities like New York, Berlin, Paris, Milan, or London.

Ephémère - la bellezza inevitabile

A tribute to the recently passed publisher Franco Maria Ricci

Graphic artist, passionate collector and refined aesthete, Ricci had the courage to give new life to the art of printing. He created and published the most elegant art publications – such as FMR - in the world since the Sixties. Through the bamboo corridors of his maze and the rooms containing his art collection, it is Ricci himself who tells his own story. Making their contribution to the story are, among others, Bernardo Bertolucci, Feltrinelli, publishers Hoepli and Taschen, as well as Guy Cogeval, director of the Musée d'Orsay, all tell anecdotes portraying the multifaceted profile of an Italian genius, but also of a man of great humanity and brilliance. From Parma to Paris, from New York to the Buenos Aires of Borges, this documentary covers the life and dreams of one of the most influential maîtres à penser of the second half of the 20th Century.
