Tutankhamun

The Last Exhibition

To mark the centenary of the discovery of Tutankhamun's tomb in 1922 when Tut-mania took over the world. This documentary offers, a unique opportunity to meet the Pharaoh, and to follow exclusive coverage of how 150 items from among his treasures, were moved to become part of the biggest international exhibition ever dedicated to the Golden Boy. "Please watch them, before they return back to Egypt forever," said Mostafa Waziry, secretary general of the Egyptian Ministry of State for Antiquities. Much will be revealed through high-resolution photographs by Sandro Vannini. Tutankhamun is a name that has become part of the collective imagination worldwide. This doc shows the stubbornness of the British archaeologist who discovered the tomb, when methods of mass communication were just beginning to completely revolutionize our lives and offers exclusive access to some of the places which continue to pulsate with its history.

Once Upon a Time In Egypt

The Heritage of the Pharaohs

This 5-episode miniseries tells the story of Ancient Egypt seen through the eyes of the Ancient Egyptians. It does so by re-adapting myths, stories and legends from the literary heritage of the people of the Nile. Compelling stories that take shape on 6k footage showing the most important, spectacular sites in Ancient Egypt. This cinematic material is combined with ultra-high-resolution photographs of paintings, engravings and jewellery which, by using 2D and 3D animation techniques, will create the highly evocative 'illustrated pages' of a narrative journey that puts the viewer in direct contact with the imagination of the Egyptians and their way of looking at the world.

Roots of Egypt

This 16-episode series retraces the history of Egypt and its wonders: hieroglyphics, jewelry, food, art, ships, agriculture, furniture, fashion, superstitions, pyramids, family dynamics, animals, music, festivals...

It is an exciting journey down the Nile with narratives intertwining as they do in the timeless tale of Scheherazade: from Zahi Hawass telling us about Tutankhamun's treasure and its curse, to the great heritage of stories painted on the walls of tombs and temples but also on fragile Egyptian papyri, from the food that is still part of the everyday life of the country to the tomb of Nefertari, the most beautiful of the ones that have survived over the millennia. What is more, the Egyptian Museum in Cairo, the Nile with its boats and the fertile valley that has characterized it for thousands of years, the incredible skill and pragmatism of the craftsmen, the role of beauty and clothing, the animals, magical or otherwise, that populate religion and the large pantheon of Egyptian gods, ancient music and its influence on contemporary music, measuring time and the religion of the Pharaohs with their long-lived dynasties, the importance of local economy, the period of Jewish slavery, popular culture, and the impressive grandeur of the Pyramids.

Maverick Modigliani

Artist Maudit, scandalous genius and indisputable master of 20th Century Art:

a portrayal that goes beyond the legendary to celebrate the 100th Anniversary since his death. Narrated here from the original point of view of his young wife, Jeanne Hébuterne who committed suicide two days after his death. Jeanne together with the Russian aspiring poetess Anna Achmatova, and the English journalist Beatrice Hastings were the women he painted portraits of, and whose faces, almost caryatid-like, became the very icons of his art. The action of the film unwinds through museum halls, enriched by the works of the Albertina in Vienna and the splendid exhibition dedicated to the artist at Livorno's City Museum, as well as the National Gallery of Art in Washington and the great museums and art collections in Paris.

Secret Impressionists

50 unseen masterpieces unveiled for the first time: Manet, Caillebotte, Renoir, Monet, Cézanne, Signac, Sisley and Berthe Morisot.

A cinematic journey to discover the art revolution caused by the Impressionist movement through fifty paintings that have been on display in Rome at Palazzo Bonaparte, in an exhibition of the same title. How did the Impressionists view the world? What was the reception given to their works? How did they go from being rejected by critics and the public to becoming, in just a few short years, some of the best loved works of art in the whole world? The two curators of the exhibition, Claire Durand-Ruel (Paul Durand-Ruel, the most important Impressionists' art dealer was her great-great-grandfather) and Marianne Mathieu, will accompany audiences along a complex and intriguing path.

Florence and the Medici

From Salvador Dali to Andy Warhol, David LaChapelle to Jeff Koons and Lady Gaga, no one appears to be immune to the eternal fascination of Botticelli and his works.

A journey through the art of the Maestro enshrined in the open-air museum that is Florence: an unprecedented itinerary to discover the artist who invented a new model of beauty, overcoming the barrier of the centuries to inspire our contemporaries. Dreamlike re-enactments, spell-binding images of the city and filmed footage of amazing works of art, are intertwined with the voices of leading experts, and international art historians as they narrate the splendor and contradictions of the Florence of Lorenzo de 'Medici. Botticelli asserted himself as the inventor of an ideal Beauty, which found its maximum expression in works such as The Allegory of Spring and the Birth of Venus.

The Young Prodigy

Marking the 500th Anniversary of his death, an immersion into the Renaissance to explore his sublime art.

This documentary explores the story of the artist from Urbino, starting with his extraordinary female portraits: mother, lover, client, goddess, figures that all played a role in Raphael's life, making it possible for the painter's story to be told from a new perspective, and for his continuous search for absolute beauty to be examined. It places particular emphasis on the artistic transformation of the painter and his ability to make his art evolve continuously without ever repeating himself. The documentary also makes use of special graphic animation by award-winning illustrator Giordano Poloni that, by using evocative and dreamlike language, gives shape to the key moments in Raphael's life where myth, legend and reality continuously intermingle. Thanks to contributions from internationally renowned experts, this documentary film will also enable us to discover the most significant cities and places in the life and times of one of the Renaissance master.

Giacomo Balla

The Lord of Lights

To mark 150th anniversary since Balla's birth, this doc celebrates an Italian Master.

"We Futurists ascend to the highest and most radiant peaks, and proclaim ourselves Lords of Light, since we already drink from the living sources of the Sun". Giacomo Balla, the futurist genius, was the beacon of the most powerful avant-garde of the early twentieth century. Yet areas of shadow, obscure his human and artistic history: Giacomo Balla the fascist; Giacomo Balla the traitor; Balla the provincial.

A complex figure, sometimes secret, with multifaceted creativity, the artist has long been the victim of a stigma. Today, new studies give Balla a leading role in the international art scene, recognizing him as the "Leonardo da Vinci of the twentieth century" as he liked to define himself.

Éphémère - Inescapable beauty

A tribute to the recently passed publisher Franco Maria Ricci

Graphic artist, passionate collector and refined aesthete, Ricci had the courage to give new life to the art of printing. He created and published the most elegant art publications – such as FMR which reads as 'éphémère' in French - in the world. Through the bamboo corridors of his maze and the rooms containing his art collection, it is Ricci himself who tells his own story. Making their contribution to the story are, among others, Bernardo Bertolucci, Feltrinelli, publishers Hoepli and Taschen, as well as Guy Cogeval, director of the Musée d'Orsay, all tell anecdotes portraying the multifaceted profile of an Italian genius, but also of a man of great humanity and brilliance. From Parma to Paris, from New York to the Buenos Aires of Borges, this documentary covers the life and dreams of one of the most influential maîtres à penser of the second half of the 20th Century.

Storia di un impiegato (story of an office worker)

Further tribute is paid to Fabrizio De André. A son honours his father, and his legacy as a politically active artist, man and great poet, bearing personal testimony to the deep, loving relationship between them. In a tour lasting two years, Cristiano De André presented Italian audiences with a concept album entitled "Story of an Office Worker", a masterpiece by De André, written in 1973 with Giuseppe Bentivoglio and Nicola Piovani, and still as relevant today as ever. The film, by Roberta Lena, is a musical, visual journey through those live concerts, a repertoire of social contention, historical and family memories as well as unpublished footage.

Via con me

A music icon that moves “Body and Soul”

Conte has been compared to Tom Waits and Randy Newman by the New York Times and is one of the greatest singers in the province of the world – to quote his song lyrics “La provincia del mondo”. The documentary forms an ideal itinerary with Luca Zingaretti (The Inspector Montalbano mystery series) as narrator, telling the story of an eclectic, mysterious character. Verdelli has drawn on Conte’s immensely rich personal archive and combined ad hoc material: interviews, filmed footage of international tours and special moments making up a unique career. # The Importance of Being an Architect

A documentary film conceived of as a virtual dialogue and musical journey in four acts, which investigates the responsibility of architects in building the society of tomorrow. Through the eyes of Antonio Citterio, one of the best-known Italian designers around the world, and Patricia Viel, co-founders of the Milanese architecture studio ACPV, the film leads us to a vision of design in the architecture of tomorrow, centered on an armistice between nature and the built environment. Alternating dialogues with various personalities from the world of fashion, art, design, and investigating the architectures designed by ACPV, the documentary offers a vision of the post-Covid world, in the midst of the climate crisis and urban redistribution. The latent energy contained in the architectural places is evoked through musical scenes set in different parts of the world (Milan, L'Aquila, Hamburg, Taichung, Miami), in which individual musicians spread spatially distant notes that meet in a single composition capable of breaking down distances and projecting man into his natural habitat, that of the cities of tomorrow.
